HOW TO FIND LINK IN GOYA

legit way

in console the first output is different from the others, clicking on the origin of the call we find this the second part is only for spamming the console we need the first part, we can see that is calling a file php, this file php will return 2 different messages, the one with the hind if we call it with a POST and the one without the hint if we call it with a GET method.

we can see that the scripts splits away something of the requested data, lets go to "network" tab to know why.
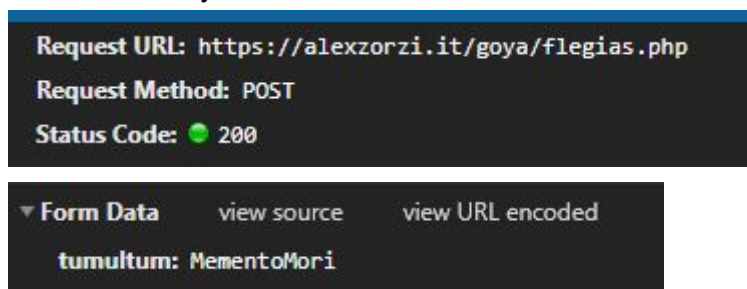

a POST is made with some data ,The output is this look carefully and you will se that something is hiding in this text

EXIF"

if we go back we can see that something is being discarded from the data of the request that starts with ""

ret += response.split("")[0]

FIRST TRAP

accessing the flegias.php with a normal GET request will result in this response same as before but without the hint

Searching on the web what is EXIF we get this definition

Every digital photo has data about it included in the image file. This is what we call EXIF data.

ok..so the link must be in one of the site images? lets try we have 3 images on the site, the first one is noescape.jpg this is found by clicking the link labeled as "Useless", and its actually useless.

the second image is goya.jpg if we try to read the EXIF data with an online reader we get this

SECOND TRAP lol

oh thats a link https://images.stricted.net/test/lineage-18.1-20201230-UNOFFICIAL-dreamlte.zip ok
----
lets try the other image godisdead.jpg https://images.stricted.net/test/you/never/find/this/secret/lineage-18.1-20201225-UNOFFICIAL-dreamlte.zip ok this is the actual real link in the end

hopefully you had fun, most people just yeeted the images in a notepad to find the answer while skipping some steps before, next time it will be harder.

 enjoy your 18 rom

```php
<?php

if($_GET["tumultum"] == "MementoMori"){ echo "as~ ~the/d- Dura lex, sed lex  as~";
~the/d;

elseif($_POST["tumultum"] == "MementoMori"){ echo "as~ ~the/d-Dura lex, sed lex the/+iEXIF";

?>

flegias.php salsa

now i will share some funny moments we saw, you can skip this part
